

TAKE POSSESSION OF SANTA RITA

Americans Also Occupy Angeles.

GIVES CONTROL OF THE PROVINCE OF BATAAN.

Early This Morning a Battalion of the Seventeenth Infantry With Field Gun Moved on the First Mentioned Town and Opened Fire—Colonel Bell of the Thirty-fifth Infantry, and Staff, Perform a Daring Feat—Fired Upon by Filipinos But Were Uninjured.

Manila, Aug. 11.—[Special]—Gen. MacArthur's forces advanced upon and occupied Angeles today. Early this morning a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry with field gun moved on the town and opened fire. The rebels answered weakly. A little later it was seen that the town was safe.

Reconnoitering parties were sent out, but up to noon no firing was heard. This led the officers to believe that Angeles had been evacuated and the rebels had scattered.

A forward movement was then ordered, and the town was taken. Colonel Bell of the Thirty-fifth Infantry, and staff, performed a daring feat last night. They entered Angeles and rode up and down the town's streets, firing revolvers and yelling like cow-boys. The Filipinos fired upon the little party several times, but the Americans returned to their lines uninjured.

MacArthur Takes Possession. Washington, Aug. 11.—[Special]—The following was received from Gen. Otis this morning: "Gen. MacArthur has taken possession of Santa Rita and the insurgents were driven back. 'One casualty occurred yesterday, but none today.' 'The condition of the roads makes the movement of the troops difficult but it is considered necessary in order to open up this section of the country as it virtually gives control of the province of Bataan and relieves the inhabitants there.'"

Hold an Officer Prisoner. Manila, Aug. 11.—[Special]—From southern Luzon the report comes that an American officer is held a prisoner there and the description given indicates that it is Maj. Rockefeller of the Ninth infantry, who disappeared while making an individual reconnaissance.

Troops Arrive at Manila. Manila, Aug. 11.—[Special]—The transport City of Paris, with troops of cavalry and four companies of artillery, arrived from San Francisco this morning.

Manila, Aug. 11.—Gen. MacArthur's troops maintained the line today much as when the fighting ended Wednesday night. Reconnoitering parties have been sent out in all directions to develop the enemy. Wednesday's advance seems to have made a clean sweep of nearly fifty square miles of territory. All the scouting parties report that few Filipinos were seen.

Major O'Brien of the Seventeenth infantry, with a reconnoitering party, approached within the limits of Angeles. He reports that there are between 300 and 400 insurgents there. He had no orders to attack the place, so did not reply to the few scattering shots which were directed at his men.

The troops are tired out with the terrible marching and fighting of Wednesday. Gen. MacArthur's reports indicate that 100 insurgents were killed and fully 300 wounded. This estimate is rather high. Our loss is five killed and forty wounded. The movement on Wednesday was very successful. It was one of the largest general movements made by the troops north of Manila. The general advance from San Fernando began just as day was beginning to break on Wednesday. The advance continued to within two miles of Angeles, which is ten miles north of San Fernando.

The weather was terrible. At times a blistering sun beat down on the troops. Then there would be marching and fighting in a blinding rain-storm. Next the sun would come out again with its fearful heat.

Col. J. F. Bell with the Thirty-sixth infantry, was on the extreme left. The Twelfth infantry came next, and to the right of the Twelfth was the Ninth infantry, which extended to the railroad track, where Gen. MacArthur had his place. The armored train formed the center, while on the left were the Twenty-second, Fifty-first Iowa and the Seventeenth infantry in the order named. The line was five miles long.

At the signal to advance Col. Bell's regiment attacked Bacolor, which fell at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. At the same time Col. Powell, who commanded the Seventeenth infantry, made a demonstration against Mexico, which lies to the east of San Fernando. Col. Powell's men were supported by the Third artillery, and there was hot firing for a few minutes. Then the insurgents took to their heels and started north.

BURGLARS AT WORK THROUGHOUT STATE

ANTIGO MAN FINDS ONE AT HIS BEDSIDE.

Compelled to Turn Over All His Money to the Fellow—George Troegner of Neillsville, Also Visited By a Midnight Robber—Little Girl Dashed to Death.

Antigo, Wis., Aug. 11.—The residence of A. M. Lanning, president of the Antigo Screen Door company, was entered last night by burglars and Mr. Lanning made to give up what he had. One of the men removed the window screen, entered through the open parlor window, proceeded to the family sleeping room and awakened the head of the house. The burglar said he was desperate and demanded money, whereupon Mr. Lanning produced his wallet, which contained $30. The marauder wore no mask and the only weapon of defense shown was a large chisel. The same parties tried to get into L. K. Strong's residence but were unsuccessful. A good description was furnished to the police, but up to the present time no arrests have been made.

Neillsville, Wis., Aug. 11.—Burglars entered the residence of George Troegner and stole Mr. Troegner's vest and pantaloons containing about $155. Klein, residing at 718 State street, has received word that her son, John, was stabbed to death at Dermott, Ark., July 29, by Worth Bottorff, night operator for the Iron Mountain road at that place. Klein was a lineman, but was temporarily in charge of the office, the day operator being sick. The night operator, Bottorff, came into the station and objected to Klein's presence, telling him to leave. The two had some words and Klein started to leave. As he did so, Bottorff came up and stabbed him in the back, striking the heart. Klein took a few steps and dropped to the ground dead. Bottorff boarded a freight train and escaped. He was captured within a few days and is now in prison awaiting trial.

Little Girl Dashed to Death. Marshfield, Wis., Aug. 11.—A runaway occurred yesterday afternoon, in which a 3-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Little was dashed to death against a telephone pole. The little one had fallen from the seat and was crouched in a kneeling position, close to the dashboard, when the horse crashed with terrific force against the pole in turning a corner. The father was driving for the Marshfield Steam Laundry company and had stepped from the wagon a moment when the horse started, caused by the little one playing with the reins.

In the Garb of Priests. Appleton, Wis., Aug. 11.—Warrants have been sworn out for two alleged priests, who have been soliciting funds in the northern part of Outagamie county. Doors of Bank of England. The public entrance doors of the great building of the Bank of England are so finely balanced that a clerk, by pressing a knob under his desk, can close them instantly.

Seashell Vessel. The schooner Humboldt, fifty-eight tons, burden, hailing from Boston, is said to be the only vessel in the world exclusively devoted to the collection of seashells for sale. Much of its work is undertaken for public and private schools.

Daring Death in the Alps. During 1898 the number of persons who made Alpine tours, necessitating guides, in the Tyrol was 18,000.

ADDITIONAL NEWS OF THE HURRICANE

GEN. DAVIS SENDS INFORMATION FROM SAN JUAN.

Advices Say Storm Was Far More Severe in the Interior and Southern Part of the Island—Estimated That 100,000 Porto Ricans Who Lost Everything.

Washington, Aug. 10.—[Special]—The following additional information about the West Indies hurricane was received from General Davis, at San Juan this morning: "Later reports show that the hurricane was far more severe in the interior and southern part of the island than here. Data for an estimate of the number of Porto Ricans who lost everything, cannot fall below one hundred thousand, and a famine is impending."

He asks that two and a half million pounds of rice and beans, equal quantities of each, be immediately shipped to Ponce. Washington, Aug. 11.—[Special]—Hurricane reports this morning are more favorable. It is hoped the hurricane will not reach the United States coast.

Many Deaths of Natives. Sanher, Aug. 11.—[Special]—There were many deaths of natives by falling walls. So far only one soldier is reported dangerously wounded.

No reports as yet have been received from Mayaguez and Ponce, but they are in the vortex of the storm. At least half of the people of Porto Rico subsist entirely on fruit and vegetables and the storm entirely destroyed this source of supply.

Secretary Root will issue a proclamation calling for assistance from the different states of the union and has ordered the chief commissary at San Juan to issue supplies to the destitute.

Over 500 Bodies Recovered. San Juan, Aug. 11.—[Special]—Reports of the loss of life caused by the hurricane are slowly coming in, but enough has been received to indicate that Ponce was hit the hardest and that the number of deaths will run into the thousands.

Over five hundred bodies have been recovered there and the work of burying the dead is going on night and day. An epidemic of disease will probably be caused.

Ponce Suffered the Most. New York, Aug. 11.—[Special]—The Evening Journal's Ponce dispatch says: "It is now known that Ponce was the greatest sufferer by Tuesday's hurricane. The rivers Portuguese and Canas were flooded through the city, drowning thousands. Five hundred bodies have already been recovered and it is feared that the number of deaths will exceed those of the storm of '65, when six thousand were killed."

Headed Toward United States. Washington, Aug. 11.—[Special]—The weather bureau has issued the following bulletin: "The hurricane center is apparently approaching Nassau, Bahamas. The storm will increase in intensity upon reaching the gulf stream, and will probably reach the South Atlantic coast of the United States tonight."

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 11.—Great havoc has been wrought by the hurricane, according to the latest reports from Porto Rico, San Domingo, Guadalupe, Antigua, the Bahamas, St. Thomas and St. Croix. All these islands felt its disastrous effects, Porto Rico, St. Thomas and St. Croix most severely.

Everywhere shipping suffered, scores of sailing vessels being sunk, especially at Guadalupe. Crops were destroyed in many places, and widespread distress will probably result. The velocity of the hurricane was more than seventy miles an hour.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Aug. 11.—A courier who has arrived from Humacao brings information of the complete destruction of that city, which had a population of 8,000. Only two buildings in the place are standing. The loss of life was large, it being known that sixty-four persons were killed. The injured number 200. Among the killed were a Mrs. Carlson, an American, and a discharged United States soldier named North. The property loss is placed at $2,000,000.

In Yabuco, a town of 4,000 inhabitants, every house is down with the exception of one. Twenty persons were killed.

The total number of deaths thus far reported in San Juan is 138. Reports of the effects of Tuesday's hurricane received from the interior says that the coffee and fruit crops are totally destroyed and that thousands of people are destitute. Communication is only possible on foot. The military road is strewn with trees, bowlders and debris, and is absolutely impassable for vehicles. The towns of Abondito and Cayey are wrecked. Four persons were killed at Catano. The oil works of the Standard Oil company were destroyed. The loss on this property is $150,000.

Seventy-Four Deaths in Montserrat. London, Aug. 11.—The colonial office has made public a cable dispatch from the governor of the Leeward islands to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain. The dispatch is as follows: "I regret to report that the island of Montserrat was completely devastated by a hurricane on Aug. 7. Every church and chapel was completely destroyed, and all other buildings either destroyed or damaged. Seventy-four deaths are reported up to the present time, and throughout the whole country the people are homeless. The commissioner reports that plenty of food and articles of clothing are urgently required. "Property was also seriously damaged in the islands of St. Kitt's and Nevis. Twenty-one deaths are reported in Nevis. Temporary relief has been afforded. The hurricane was not so severe in Antigua. One death is reported and many persons are homeless. Have no report of damages from other dependencies."

Forty-Five Natives Killed at Ponce. Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 11.—A terrific hurricane struck Ponce on Tuesday, causing great loss of life and enormous damage to property. No Americans were killed. The bodies of forty-five natives have been found, and it is likely that others will be recovered later. The wires are all down and the railroad badly damaged. All communication is shut off.

The aqueduct was broken by the storm and the city left without water. The troops, firemen and police worked day and night saving life and property. The city is quiet, and is being carefully watched by the military and civil authorities. All danger has passed, but there is great suffering among the inhabitants.

WILL TAKE TRANSVAAL

Belief That England Is Resolved in Case War Is Declared—Boers Resolved.

London, Aug. 11.—[Special]—The Standard and Digger's News today say that the Boers now believe that England is resolved to take Transvaal if war is declared.

Doubtless, say the papers, England would be victorious, but the Uitlanders would be ruined, as the Boers are resolved in case of war to destroy Johannesburg and flood the mines there.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 11.—J. Davis Allan, representative of the south African uitlanders, arrived here Thursday. In an interview he said: "The Boer president is relying upon an approaching general election in England and the hope that the liberals in the electoral campaign will take the side of the Dutch."

Mr. Allan stated that he had received a private cable from London stating that war with the Boer republic was almost inevitable. If war took place, Mr. Allan said, there could be only one result, the Boers would be crushed, but it would only be after a severe struggle. Kruger would not risk war unless he had assurances of support from the Orange Free State. This more than doubled the strength of his strategic position, besides adding to the number of troops at his disposal.

Great Britain Prepares for War. London, Aug. 11.—The St. James' Gazette says that all the shipping companies under charter to the British admiralty for transport purposes have been notified to hold all their transports in reserve for the immediate dispatch of troops. The steamer Dunera has been ordered to be in readiness Saturday to ship a detachment of horse artillery to South Africa.

NEARLY HIT BY BOX CAR

Charles W. Schwartz Team Had Narrow Escape From Sudden Death

The accident at the C. & N. W. transfer house which resulted in the disabling of Andrew Gibson is said to have been caused by the "throwing in" of a box car. "The team stood across the track" said C. W. Schwartz today, and the switch crew sent car down without the slightest precaution. Gibson jumped to get the team out of the way, and when he went down between the horses it frightened them. Otherwise they would not have gone twenty feet."

FORECAST OF WEATHER

Chicago, Aug. 11.—[Special]—Forecast for Wisconsin: Fair tonight and Saturday.

The Turquoise.

Perhaps the most popular stone just now is the turquoise, $35 not being considered an out-of-the-way price to pay for quite a small stone, provided the color be good. Grease or water spoils these stones entirely, and this is the reason that people with moist skins can seldom manage to keep the stone a good color for any length of time.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FINISHED WITH SECRET DOSSIER

Examination Completed This Morning.

ABOUT TO CLAIM ONE MORE VIOLENT DEATH.

This is the General Belief Connected With the Dreyfus Affair—Idea Connects Itself With Fresh Exposures at the Trial—Rumored That Ex-President Casimier-Perier, as a Result of Late Investigations, Has New Evidence to Submit Compromising a Leading General.

Renles, Aug. 11.—[Special]—The examination of the secret dossier was finished by the Dreyfus court martial this morning after a two hours' session. Tomorrow is the second open session of the court and it is said it will test the strength of the prosecution.

Ex-President Casimier-Perier and possibly Gen. Mercier will testify. It is rumored that Casimier-Perier as a result of late investigations has new evidence to submit, compromising a leading general.

The general belief is that the Dreyfus affair is about to claim one more violent death. This idea connects itself with fresh exposures expected at the trial. Du Paty de Clam is not expected to testify.

JONES MAY YET BE LYNCHED.

Ominous Talk About the Abductor Is Heard in Peru—Mob Dismisses.

Peru, Ind., Aug. 11.—Mayor Durand issued a proclamation Thursday announcing that the hearing of the case of Clyde Jones on the charge of abducting Nellie Beyer had been continued until next Wednesday. The mob that had waited all night, determined, it is supposed, to lynch Jones, scattered upon learning at 4 a. m. that the prisoner had been taken to Kokomo. At daylight, however, thousands of people lined the streets and courtyard discussing the case, and under all the talk there was a grim, dangerous undercurrent. Jones is still in jail at Kokomo, and will not be brought here for a day or two, and probably then under guard of the militia.

Disaster at Woodmen Picnic.

Racine, Wis., Aug. 11.—The first annual picnic of the Racine and Kenosha county members of the Modern Woodmen of the World, held at Union Grove, proved to be a disastrous one, as a number of persons were injured by the collapsing of a grand stand at the ball park. More than 400 persons were seated in the stand, which was a poorly constructed one, when it broke. A dozen were injured, some seriously. It is not thought that any of the injuries will prove fatal.

The council embraces the United States and Canada and includes English, Swedish and German Lutheran congregations.

Powder Mills Blown Up.

Aetna, Ind., Aug. 11.—Three powder mills connected with the plant of the Aetna Powder company blew up Thursday, shaking the ground for miles around. The explosion was caused by a fire which started in one of the mills and spread to the other two, igniting a quantity of dynamite in process of manufacture. The alarm was given in time for the employees to escape, and no one was injured. The loss is about $5,000.

SUMMER COSTUMES FOR WOMEN. . .

"Summer" is the one word which best describes present fashions. The intense heat early in the season has successfully launched all manner of airy, gauzy gowns upon the summer sea of popularity. Flimsy, transparent fabrics for full dress quite overshadow silks and satins.

Dotted muslins, lace trimmed and tucked up, down, across or "as you like it," are extremely fashionable.

The really swell lining of the moment for semitransparent fabrics of all

STYLISH GOWN OF SILK MUSLIN.

Kinds is white taffeta. To achieve the latest touch of elegance your embroidered muslin, organdie or chiffon must be made up over this. But muslins, etc., are also worn over colored glass silk or fine saten, the slip made quite distinct from the gown.

Organdie muslins in delicate pinks, blues and greens make up prettily with narrow lace edging the flounces and touches of the color introduced at neck and waist. One deep flounce with narrower ones above, the skirt long all round and tight at the top, is a favored fashion, or several very narrow flounces quite at the edge.

Next to pure white in the scheme of dress and underslip, harmonies of color prevail, violent contrasts being for the time unpopular.

The dainty gown of the first cut includes one of these charming color arrangements. It is of heliotrope silk muslin, the skirt long and full and decorated with narrow flounces of the muslin and with simulated panels formed by narrow ruffles, also of muslin. The slip or foundation is of heliotrope taffeta and the bodice is made on a tight lining of the same color.

Dotted muslins are also worn over pale colored slips, and as gowns of this type are best sent to the chemical cleaner both make and trimming can be as elaborate as desired. The model in the second cut is very smart and is simply Trimmed with quantities of insertion lace. The skirt is cut in the full fluted style and is quite distinct from the skirt of cream taffeta.

There is immense variety in little open coats which are just the thing for a smart costume for the summer holiday. One of the most chic styles is the new Eton, with spade or tabbed front, which is most becoming to a small figure and sufficiently uncommon to look smart. A costume with this coat, shown in the second cut, is of gray cloth, trimmed with dark gray and white braid. The Eton coat fits closely into the waist at the back, and two lines of the braid simulate curved seams and cross the shoulders and outline the fronts. The collar and revers of white silk are closely covered with lines of the braid, and the fronts are also faced with the same white silk.

The Chic Thing of the Season.

"The chic thing of the season is the black silk coat of tacked taffeta, bordered all around with a stitched band of plain taffeta. These form decidedly one of the most fashionable features of the season's fashions," says the New York Sun.

Both black and white silk taffeta coats will be worn with cotton, silk, wool and lace gowns this season. They are made of the soft, thin and consequently expensive taffeta, finely tucked and lined with white. Some of them are Eton shape, with or without rounded points at either side of the front, while others have the scalloped basque finish or are cut in the form of a Russian blouse without much of the real blouse effect.

Summer Lingerie.

This is an excellent trio for nainsook, cambric or percheron silk. The chemise is shaped to fit the figure slightly, two groups of three tucks accounting for the slight fullness in front, while the

The nightdress is arranged with a yoke under the sailor collar, by means of which all superfluous material on the shoulders is avoided, and is trimmed, in common with its companions, with deep hemstitched frills and insertion, through which bebe ribbon is run. The knickers are cut on a French model, insuring ease and a perfect fit.

A Delicious Cheese.

A delicious cheese may be made with one cupful of fresh cottage cheese. Put it into a piece of cheese cloth and press out all the liquid. Add to the drained cheese a heaping tablespoonful of Parmesan cheese, a saltspoonful of salt, a dash of paprika, one tablespoonful of cream and a couple of ounces of melted butter. Mix these ingredients well together and press the mixture into small balls of the size of a walnut and serve with a salad. When serving with crackers, some chopped water cress or parsley added to the other ingredients is an improvement.

Household Hints.

A wrinkle given by a country woman is that her way of keeping a cut cheese from molding and spoiling is to wet a piece of cloth in vinegar and wring it out as dry as possible. Wrap the cut cheese in this damp cloth. Then roll it in paper and keep in a cool place.

Saucepans should always be kept bottom upward and without their lids. If there is no proper pot stand, they should project about one inch beyond the edge of the shelf or board, so that the air can get to them freely, and, thus treated, they never acquire a musty flavor, however long unused.

Closet shelves and floors washed with hot water and cayenne pepper will tend to keep away ants and roaches. Borax and alum may be sprinkled under the shelf paper, or an underlayer of tar paper is effective.

Half a dozen ordinary marbles, such as boys play with, bobbing around on the bottom of a kettle of fruit or juice that is being cooked preparatory to jelly or canning will lessen the amount of stirring necessary to prevent burning.

About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. Boggs, Stumptown, Gilmer Co., W. Va. # FASHION'S WHEEL.

ITS LATEST ROUND BRINGS FROU FROUS AND FEMININITY.

Mannish Styles Relegated to Oblivion—Muslins, Laces and All Things Dainty to the Fore—Ruffles, Puffs and Elbow Sleeves.

In the whole history of the fashions of the nineteenth century clothes were never more elaborate than today. We never bestowed such care upon their fashioning, such attention to their details, while the needlework involved in their manipulation is simply immense. No material is left to go its own sweet way unadorned. Even our old friends—serge, cloth, alpaca and silk—bear evidences of a certain amount of industry. There are stitchings upon stitchings, braidings upon braidings, and the latest idol of the hour is taffeta silk with appliques of transparent embroidery and lace.

Leading authorities predict that the race of the tight skirt is nearly run and drawing to the finish. People have assured themselves and others that the impossibly tight is the only wear and have worn it accordingly, generally to the detriment of the line of beauty. Now a few of the latest models begin to display a little fullness, a mere soupçon of a fold at the back, and the sweet little cherub that sits up aloft and amuses himself with the follies of woman-kind is appeased, for he finds less food for ridicule. The result of this small wrinkle, however, is still hidden in the future.

Two charming costumes illustrate the whims and elaboration of today's swell modes. The first is composed of white crepe de chine, with plain trained skirt, the bodice and closely fitting sleeves covered with lace; draped collar, a long scarf fichu of crepe de chine and a wide folded belt of pale pink silk. The hat is of white panama, with black velvet strings and garniture of pink roses. The second figure is of plaited muslin and guipure insertion over yellow silk; hat of burnt straw, with poppies and a long string of black tulle secured with a paste ornament upon the corsage. Less striking, yet sufficiently ornate, are the two muslin gowns of the second cut. One is in white, patterned with mauve over mauve silk, with yoke of cream embroidery and tucked vest of white muslin. The other is also of white muslin, with insertions of valenciennes over pale blue silk, the bodice trimmed with black velvet bows.

Light and delicate tones are universal. It is the exception to see any of the sad colored shades that people formerly designated as serviceable and not soiled easily. Such considerations are now thrown to the wind. Gray and mastic lead.

Rumor has it that elbow sleeves will soon be the only thing for dressy afternoon gowns, finished off with a frill of lace or a ruching of chiffon or ribbon.

Velvet ribbons are used by the mile to hem the daintiest flounces, to thread lace, to encircle the bare throat, when they are invariably clasped with jeweled slides, and to trim the millinery of the hour.

As a relief from the almost too popular tuck, dressmakers are introducing a small double puff as a border decoration.

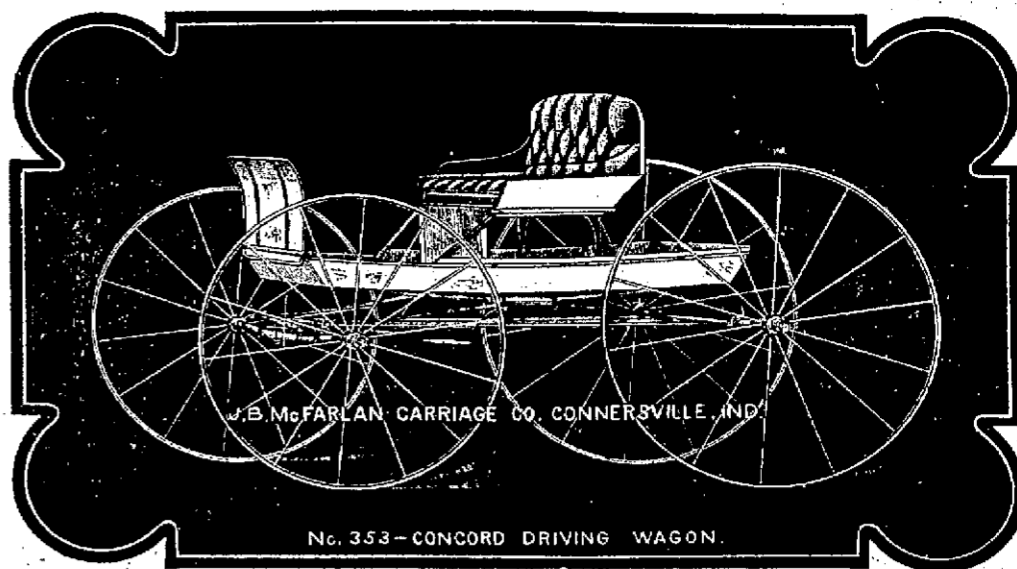

Narrow ruffles, which came in very modestly as a little frill finish for the bottom of the skirt, have ascended to the knees in front and may even reach the waist behind if one likes.

Chiffon Scarfs.

London and Paris are responsible for the long and wide chiffon scarfs which threaten us. These are tied round the neck and knotted in a large bow under the chin, with long, full ends falling to the feet, or they are fastened at the back of the round hats, knotted on one side of the face, and also with very long ends reaching to the hem of the dress.

Buggy Tastes are Changing

The monotonous style of vehicle of a few years ago does not find place with the up-to-date buyer of today.

The demand for rigs of natty appearance increases each season. This year the swell turnouts combine comfort with style. The open runabout buggy with elliptic springs and rubber tires, or the top buggies with rubber tires, have a tendency to make the person who has no outfit a trifle envious. Handsome Buggies do not cost as much as you think for. Prices are reasonable and the rigs are the best.

JANE ADDAMS' SUMMER SCHOOL.

Affords City Working Girls an Outing and Combines Recreation and Study.

By Annette Crawford.

One of the many activities of Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, in behalf of womanhood and humanity in general is a summer school for girls at Rockford, Ills. Through the courtesy of the trustees of Rockford college the chapel and dormitories of that institution are used free of charge, and here are gathered something more than 100 happy girls—mostly Chicago girls—who work in one way or another and are all the more appreciative of the advantages of the school during the outing season.

Not for one minute is it to be imagined this school, like the thousand and one summer schools over the country, is not for intellectual labor. It is unique, on the other hand, in that it combines a small amount of mental exercise, mostly along the lines of informal nature study, with a maximum of outdoor recreation.

At the same time the two requisites of a really ideal outing—pleasure and profit—are so interwoven that it is delightfully difficult to discover where the play ends and the study begins. It is a happy medium, what is more, between the intense intellectuality of the summer student and the "unemployed laziness" of the summer resort.

Not only does it combine pleasure and improvement, but adds the comforting fact that the cost of the outing is merely nominal, that the free instruction on a little of everything under the shining summer sun is by as clever a lot of college girls as could be found the country over.

The social part of Miss Addams' summer school also flourishes. About every other day some special scheme is successfully carried out. One day it is a "white ball" in the gymnasium, when every one on the floor is required to dress in a white costume, and another day it is a picnic up the river, where the coffee is made over a campfire. Once in awhile the small steamer is chartered for a trip up the river or a trolley car is secured for a trip through the town. These summer pleasures are interspersed with hay rides, bicycle spins and whatever entereth into the head of the summer girl.

Not the least interesting of this summer scheme is the partly co-operative housekeeping. As the summer school is in no sense charitable, each one pays either $3 or $3.50 a week for board and a room in the dormitory. The ones who only pay $3 are required to do housework for one hour each day. This one hour may be spent in drying dishes, setting the table, shining the silver or the like.

The cooking is done by a set of servants, but each member of the summer school is expected to attend to her own room. The ones who pay the additional 50 cents are exempt only from the one hour's work. There is one part of the work, however, each girl is required to do. That is to wait on the table three days. As eight sit at each table, two wait on each table.

This housekeeping scheme seems all the more attractive when it is understood that not only are all the bills—including food, gas, laundry and servants—paid out of these small weekly sums, but usually has a surplus. Last season, for instance, there was $245 left in the exchequer, which was used to buy a new set of library furniture for the college.

Miss Addams' idea in starting the school was to have a pleasant place where the Hull House winter classes could pursue their studies.

The sojourners at the summer school, therefore, are for the most part people who take advantage of social settlement courses of study. Though many are breadwinners, including shop girls and school teachers, a considerable part are social settlement residents or persons who are particularly interested in its aims.

As Rockford college is the first institution thus to open its doors it deserves great credit, particularly as it is not heavily endowed and might consistently guard its buildings from unnecessary use. Some other colleges conduct summer schools, but it is either for pecuniary profit or to further the interests of their particular set of students. So it may be said that Rockford college stands unique in having taken the initiative in making possible such a pleasant and instructive vacation for those not connected with it.

Rockford's initiative furnishes a good example to hundreds of other women's colleges, located conveniently near large cities, which, by adopting this "open door" policy, could aid thousands of girls in having pleasant and inexpensive vacations, while giving them opportunities for study and self improvement.
